Fourth Nadcap Accreditation Awarded to Oerlikon Metco

Plymouth, MI — April 16, 2020 — Oerlikon Metco's Quality Testing Laboratory in Plymouth, MI has been granted Nadcap accreditation for Materials Testing Laboratories. With this facility receiving its first Nadcap accreditation, Oerlikon Metco has now reached this approval milestone at four out of its five North American materials production locations, which include Westbury NY, Troy MI, Plymouth MI and Fort Saskatchewan AB. Due to consistency in quality work and strong competence from facility employees, the accreditations continue the high standards set by the leaders of Oerlikon Metco to supply materials and confidence to customers.

"With years of Nadcap accreditation achieved by Oerlikon Metco, it is truly satisfying to see our Plymouth team continue this success with their Nadcap achievement. For over a year, it has been our mission to practice the most rigorous industry standards for our in-house material testing. This is a collaborative effort provided by everyone on our team and I couldn't be any more proud," states Meghan Olds, Manager – Engineering and Quality at Oerlikon Metco, Plymouth, MI. "It is important to our company that each facility is inspired to achieve the highest quality standards in order to present the best products to our consumers. We are truly grateful for these location teams and their ability to gain positive recognition for Oerlikon Metco," states Fred Stephenson, Senior Director of Operations at Oerlikon Metco.
